

Gianluca Busuttil

Gianluca Busuttil is a senior manager at Deloitte Malta. He joined the firm in October 2019. His main areas of interest include commercial and corporate law, gaming law, and the various aspects of technology law.

Gianluca has experience in the formulation of regulatory policy and related work in the fields of corporate and insolvency law, and has followed the development of technology law throughout his career, with a particular focus on intellectual property law, data privacy law, and digital asset regulation; and now the next generation of European digital law covering digital markets, digital services, and artificial intelligence.