

Matthew Costa

Matthew Costa worked his way up through the ranks of the Water Services Corporation, Malta's main water and wastewater service provider, over a 14-year period to his current position of Chief Financial Officer. Throughout the years, he was an integral part of the finance office, business development function and the Corporation's EU funds office. In his capacity as Chief Financial Officer, Mr. Costa's remit spans wide to also include performance analysis, procurement, supply chain and warehousing, human resources and business development.

Throughout recent years in his career, he championed and drove forward good governance initiatives and innovative financial practices within the WSC Group, setting the tone for new financing opportunities and sustainable growth.

This professional experience is backed by an academic background in business and finance, attained from the London School of Economics. Mr. Costa furthered his academic studies in entrepreneurship and later on in distributed ledger technologies, both of which are areas he is passionate about due to their ever-increasing importance in today's economies.
